

Salary Increase For Many County Office - Holders Is Proposed by Legislators

PAYROLL RAISE AFFECTS MOST OF EMPLOYEES

County Legislative Delegation
Drafts Bill Making General
Revision of Salaries to Meet
the Increased Living Costs

Assessor Clay Cuts $10,000 Off
Cost of His Department So
Total Increase in County
Salary List Is Only $1000

Preparation of the new Alameda county government bill was completed at a meeting of the county
legislative delegation yesterday afternoon and the bill is now before the legislature. The principal feature of the new measure is the provision for increase of salaries of many of the county officers and employees.

In general the recommendations of the grand jury were adopted and the average minimum salary will be $155 a month. In some instances the increases demanded were not allowed, but in the main increases were voted to the chief deputies and those responsible for the greatest amount of public work. The bill was introduced in the legislature
yesterday afternoon and the legislature will act on it today.

The legislative committee wrestled with the problem of lowering the increases demanded and at the same time holding the cost of government within the present figure. For the purpose of determining how to accomplish that and a session of the delegation was held at the courthouse during the legislative recess
and heads of all the departments were interviewed. Few suggestions were forthcoming in the line of saving, all declaring that the increased amount of business of their departments made curtailment impossible.

Each urged the necessity of assisting the various departments of the county in the line of saving. The legislature will act on the bill today and the bill will be before the legislature.

BREED HINTS POLITICS BACK OF CITY LAND BILL CHARGES

Lieutenant - Governor Asserts
Hagan Went Over His Head
to Get Legislative O. K. on Measure Affecting Estuary

Charges of "double-crossing," in which Lieutenant-Governor A. H.
Breed accused City Attorney H. L.
Hagan of attempting to get an endorsement of the city of Oakland
from the Alameda county legislative delegation over his head," were made today by Breed, in answer to Hagan's charges yesterday before the city council.

Breed denies that he agreed to any compromise in the bill, designed to give Oakland title to submerged lands
between Pine street and Lake Merritt on the estuary, and says that he is not interested except that he desires fair play for the protesters
against the bill.

Everybody is willing to give the city of Oakland title to submerged
lands before its own estuary property, but the bill as drawn, and as Hagan insists on it, would give Oakland title to land before other people's land, said Breed.

Breed says that Hagan was not present when the protesters to the bill appeared before the Commerce
and Navigation Committee of the Senate, after the Assembly had passed the bill, and that he and Hagan conferred after the committee had passed the bill, and that he could satisfy them that their interests were not jeopardized by the bill, to return to Sacramento and lay the matter
over to the next session.

Breed charges, the city attorney went to the legislative delegation and attempted to force an endorsement
through over Breed's head.

Hagan says uselessly.
"I was informed by Chairman Inman of the Senate committee," said Hagan, "that the bill was held up there, and I saw Breed. He made statements to me which I will not repeat in a private conversation, but I will use them to show that he did indicate this compromise. As to his calling me presumptuous, if standing for the city's interests, I presumptuously I will let that charge
stand."

"The long and short of it is that I found we could get nowhere in the Commerce and Navigation Committee. I then directed the fight to another channel. Under the circumstances, it would only have delayed matters to have bothered
further with Breed."

Hagan helped the cause of the City of Oakland any by an unjust attack on me,"
said Breed. "If he had started this in Sacramento there would have been no hearing in the City of Oakland had sent someone else up there to handle it. The only thing I told Hagan was that I would not stand for legislation that might upset the supreme court decisions in the Large warehouse case."

DECLARE CHARGES
MISLEADING, UNJUST
"Upon my return from Sacramento this morning," continued Breed, "my attention was called to the article last night's TRIBUNE
concerning certain statements made by the city attorney regarding Assembly Bill 613. I would not pay any attention to the misleading and unjust charges of Mr. Hagan were it not for the official position he temporarily occupies in this city. He absolutely misquotes my statements
to him and my attitude regarding this legislation at Sacramento."

"The bill referred to proposes to grant the tidelands to the City of Oakland from Pine street in West
Oakland to the north arm of Lake Meritt. A hearing had been held on this bill on Thursday, March 27, due notice of which meeting the chairman gave at least one week in advance, and at that meeting all parties interested were present with the exception of Mr. Hagan, although I am informed he had notice of the meeting."

"The position of the City of Oakland was very ably handled by Assemblyman Leon Gray. The members of the Senate Committee on Commerce and Navigation from the showing made did not feel justified
in recommending the bill for passage. Mr. Hagan's statements were made upon the scene and it was agreed that he was to see the protestants in Oakland and discuss the matter with them. He promised after doing so to consult me. When we could determine upon further action,
I appeared later to URGE ENDORSEMENT

"Instead of keeping his promise
with me, he appeared before the county legislative delegation last Wednesday and urged upon them
action endorsing the bill. I suggested to the delegation that they should notify all parties to the controversy
to meet with them before taking an interim action. I did this in the interest of fair play and justice to all sides, the City of Oakland included. This evidently was not satisfying to the city attorney."

"Last Saturday, between the time
of the hearing before the Senate Committee on Commerce and Naviga-

CAPITALIST, 72 ACCUSED BY ALAMEDA GIRL

Adele Balthasar, Musician,
25, Sues F. N. Delaney, Rich
Property Owner and Claims
Damages in Sum of $50,000

Mother of Plaintiff Declares Young Woman's Mind Is Undeveloped and That She
Is Still Guileless as a Child

Fred N. Delaney, age 72, wealthy resident of Alameda and president of the Central Building and Loan Association, with offices on Central avenue, Alameda, was made defendant in a suit today by Adele Balthasar, age 25, an Alameda musician.
The girl asks for damages in the sum of $50,000, alleging that she expects to become a mother soon.
The plaintiff is the daughter of Max
Balthasar, an employee of a San Francisco newspaper. Her father and mother are separated. The mother, Mrs. Josephine Balthasar, living at 1525 1/2 Webster street, and the father at 2254 San Antonio street. She has nine brothers and sisters, who live principally with the father. The family are said to be very poor.

According to the girl's complaint
she became acquainted with the defendant five years ago while playing the piano at the Park theater, which he owns. She charges that by the use of flattery, cajolery and other seductive artifices, he gained her confidence and succeeded in accomplishing her purpose. She says that her relations have continued since.
During all of which time she has been under his control.

WARRANT SOUGHT.
A recent warrant for the arrest
of Delaney was sought from the district attorney's office, but according to District Attorney Ezra W. Deeto
there was not sufficient evidence to warrant an arrest. Deeto said that the persons seeking the warrant
were unable to secure any testimony
corroborative of the essential details of the girl's story. He explained that in a criminal action, it is necessary
to secure the agreement of twelve jurors, whereas, in a civil action,
such as the one filed today, the concurrence of only nine jurors is necessary.

Delaney has been married twice,
according to Attorney L. W. Lovey, representing the plaintiff. The first marriage was dissolved by divorce
proceedings.

Delaney in addition to having served as mayor of Alameda, has been prominently identified with civil activities continuously, at one time being head of the park and playground commission.

The plaintiff is described as an undeveloped girl, physically and mentally, with the guileless mind of a child. She is of slight build and delicate temperament, and the fact is alleged that the treatment of her
by the defendant has greatly injured
her health.

The divorce court records show
that in 1896 Delaney was divorced
by his first wife, Mrs. Mary Frances Delaney, on her cross-complaint
for his suit for divorce. She testified to extreme cruelty, declaring that he was abusive during her protracted illness and that he sought to secure a life estate in her separate property valued at $7000.

In his complaint he alleged that she charged him with a "heinous crime" and threatened to expose him
unless he would transfer to her his interest in the estate of his deceased
son.

Adele Balthasar is one of several daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Max Balthasar of 2254 San Antonio avenue. For an extended period she was organist at the Park Theater
on Park street, owned by Delaney, the defendant in the case. One of the girl's sisters is a talented dancer. Her father is a well-known San Francisco newspaper man and sporting writer.

The mother of the girl said today:
"My daughter had brain fever
when a child and her brain did not develop with her body as she grew older. She is easily influenced. I carried on a long and bitter fight
with the matter up with the district attorney, but his office refused to act. I am going to have justice for my daughter and this civil suit was started after the district attorney's office failed to act."

"On the advice of my attorney I am not going to divulge details at this time, which will come out later,
but the case is going to stir up a lot of people. We took up with the district attorney's office the matter and also another charge. Both these charges will figure in the civil suit for damages. The girl suits, like the application to the district attorney's office, rests on the relations of my daughter with the defendant."

DELANEY IS WEALTHY ALAMEDA RESIDENT.
F. N. Delaney, the defendant, is one of the best known residents of Alameda. He is a wealthy man, owning numerous business properties
and much residential property in the city. He is the owner of the Woodman block, in which the Park Theater and numerous stores are located. He is also the owner of the Central block on Oak and Central streets and of other valuable realty.
He is manager of the Central Building and Loan Association and maintains offices in the Central block.
He is married and has a son by his second wife, Lieutenant Jesse Delaney, is in the military service. He has a son, Fred N. Delaney, and a daughter, Mrs. Florence Delaney Einhwald, by his former marriage.
Delaney declined to discuss the case further than to say that he has had knowledge for four months that

Hospital to Lead Will Rush Work Plans Completed

DR. R. G. BRODERICK.

When the new hospital of Alameda county is complete and ready for occupancy it will be second to none other in the country. This ideal is set forth by Dr. R. G. Broderick, director of hospitals of Alameda county, in a statement of aims he made today. The laying of the cornerstone of the new $1,500,000 institution which is planned is shortly to be accomplished and construction work will be rushed rapidly from
that moment.

Dr. Broderick was superintendent of the hospital of San Francisco
county and was appointed from March 10 to his position here. Himself a recognized expert in hospital
construction, equipment and maintenance, he is also to have the advisory assistance of Dr. W. E. Al-vare, superintendent of hospitals of the city of California.

Particularly enthusiastic regarding the site which has been secured for the hospital at Fourteenth avenue
and Vallecito place, Dr. Broderick has termed the spot a "monumental location." Excavations for the new institution began last month and have been proceeding steadily. It is expected that about five years will be consumed in the construction of the building. The supervisors have approved the plans for the building
drawn by Architect H. H. Meyers, whose donation of a portion of his commission toward Dr. Broderick's salary has made possible the engagement of the former San Francisco
physician to supervise the construction.

The site was formerly the property of the College of California and was acquired by the county at a cost of $50,000. An advisory committee of men eminent in the medical profession and the conduct of hospitals,
assisted in the preparation of the plans. The site comprises 9.52 acres and the plans call for the ultimate utilization of the entire site and the construction of a 500-bed infirmary
of reinforced concrete.

In an interview concerning the plans for the new hospital Dr. Broderick said:
"A monumental site has been selected. The location lends itself to the construction of a very beautiful group of buildings. The grading contract was let for $50,000, and the work of grading, which is now in progress, will be finished in about ninety days. Considering the extremely low figure at which the property was purchased, the investment in the grading of the site is cheap."

"The sketch shows a group of buildings in which it is proposed to have six three-story ward buildings
of the pavilion type, connected in such a manner that the entire ward will not only be tied together so that the floors in the different wards
will connect with one another, but likewise be connected with the administrative building situated on the ground at the intersection of Fourteenth avenue and Vallecito place."

"In the administrative building

EXPLOSION IN DIVER CHASER KILLS SAILORS

KEY WEST, Fla., April 5.—Five men were reported killed today
when the boiler of the steamer
Cape Breton blew up four miles off
the narrows. Chief Engineer Nic-Arthur, two firemen and two trimmers were the victims. Others were injured.

Some such action was to be brought by the Cape Breton, but the papers served on him and that until he knows just what charges are brought he will not make any statement.

PRESIDENT TO RESUME PEACE WORK MONDAY

Dr. Grayson Reports That Wilson, Although Still in Bed, Is Better and There Is No Cause for Worry

Paris Papers Say Anxiety Is Growing Over Peace Situation; France Can't Accept a Treaty Meaning Bankruptcy

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Rear Admiral Grayson, private physician
to President Wilson, in Paris today
cabled Secretary Tamm at the White House here that there is no need of worry over the President's condition. His message read:
"The President is better this morning, but is still confined to his bed.
There is no cause for worry."

There was no indication whether the President was being consulted again on matters under discussion at the peace conference. It is believed here, however, that Dr. Grayson will insist on the patient being given complete rest for the present at least.

A large number of messengers expressing sympathy at President Wilson's illness and hope for his speedy recovery have been received by Secretary Tamm.

PARIS, April 5.—President Wilson rested well last night and his condition is now improved, Admiral Grayson, his personal physician, said
today.

Grayson said the President, however, has been ordered to remain in bed today and probably tomorrow.
It is not anticipated the President's cold will develop into anything more serious. Despite rumors which have been in circulation since he was taken ill Thursday night,
there are no symptoms of influenza
so far.

Wilson's absence from the peace conference at this time is deplored
by the delegates, but they agree that there is nothing to be gained in taking chances with a severe cold.
The belief prevails that the President will be able to resume his work Monday.

PARIS, April 5.—Anxiety is growing over the peace situation, the Mail stated today, adding that it believes there has been a tragic misunderstanding.

At the same time this newspaper
warns persons who are afraid that Germany will balk over indemnity,
that the consequences of France
being driven to ruin is more to be feared than German revenge.

Allied Troops Ordered to Relief of Forces in Russia; Fleet Sent Out by Trotsky

LATEST WORLD DEVELOPMENTS
NEW WAR AND PEACE SITUATION

Allied armies in Murnansk coast
region of Russia are in critical position owing to defection of Finnish army fighting against Bolsheviks.
President Wilson orders more American troops to Russia. England rushes men north and prepares to send others.
President Wilson's condition improves; may be able to resume
peace work Monday.
Paris papers say anxiety grows
over peace situation and hint at tragic misunderstandings.
Finnish army agrees to use of Danzig by Poland's troops.
Leon Trotsky is reported to have ordered the Russian Baltic sea
fleet to attack the allies.

Situation of allied army in Odessa
region of Southern Russia is reported worse, with withdrawal
account of lack of food reported new.
Spartacus in Rhenish Prussia pull down statue of Bismarck after tying red sash around it.
Italian delegation does not intend to quit peace conference, but insists on claim to Fiume.
Hungarian soviet government denies franchise to employers, merchants and clergyman.
General strike continues to spread throughout Germany, but strong repressive measures have prevented disorders.

BRITISH PUT NEW ARMY IN PREPARATION

Murmansk Coast Fighters in Critical Position Because of
New Developments; Wilson
Declares Sailors May Land

March Announces U. S. Boys
to Be Out of Russia by June
Admiral Kolchak Opens Up
Big Drive Toward Moscow

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
LONDON, April 5.—Admiral
Kolchak, head of the Omsk
anti-Bolshevik forces, has announced that a drive on Moscow
will be undertaken not once, as despatch from Omsk reported
today, a proclamation addressed
to his troops said:
"We have been given orders to march on Moscow. The British people are waiting impatiently
for you as liberators from the Bolshevik yoke."

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
LONDON, April 5.—Admiral
Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik minister of war and marine, has ordered the Russian Baltic fleet to put to sea and attack the allies, threatening to have all the crews shot if they disobey the order, says the Mail.
Grief, indignation and bewilderment are the feelings expressed by the newspapers at the revelation of the allied position at Murmansk,
while it is urged that the peril of the troops is a reason why the peace conference should settle its hold towards Russia without delay. The newspapers emphasize that no steps
must be neglected to relieve the front.

Important developments on the Murmansk front in northern Russia
may be expected in a few days owing to a threatened defection of Finnish troops. According to the Mail, it is said that it was to meet this danger that American detachments were sent to Murmansk early next week.

SAILORS ORDERED TO LAND IF NECESSARY.
President Wilson is reported to have ordered the sailors of the two cruisers to land with the troops, if necessary. British relief forces have been ordered to land, and specially constructed ice-breaking transports with which they expect to get through the ice two weeks earlier than they could
on any other type of vessel.

Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, yesterday sent a telegram in his own name to the British troops in northern Russia, says the Mail, promising that they would be supported and relieved at the earliest moment, and that men who have been there for months will be brought home as soon as other troops arrive to take their places.

ENGLAND TRAINS ARMY FOR DUTIES IN NORTH.
The men for the relieving force
have already been provisionally selected and lectures have been given on the Russian situation. Troops kept in the army under the command of General March saw today it was incredible that the allied force
there could be driven into the sea by anybody.

He announced that the war department's plan was to have the American forces out of the portion of Russia by the end of June.
The chief of staff's statement was made in connection with reports
from England that the allied and American forces combined in the Bolshevik were in a serious situation.

There has been no statement of the conditions under which the Americans will withdraw, nor any announcement to indicate that they will be accompanied by all the allied forces now operating in cooperation with the Anti-Bolshevik North Russian armies.

Hungarian Soviet War Minister Quits
BUDAPEST, April 5.—Josef Po-
hania, minister of war in the Hungarian soviet government, resigned
today.

ALLIED ARMIES ONE-QUARTER DEMobilized

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Figures on the latest status of the military forces in Europe, General March announced, show that the armies of the central powers as now organized constitute about 15 per cent of their strength when the armistice was signed, while the allied forces still organized comprise 75 per cent of their total strength on November 11.

Official despatches show the aggregate strength of the central powers now as 1,125,000 men, against their combined strength in November last of 7,500,000 men. The allied armies in November totaled 12,663,000, of which only 25 per cent have been demobilized.

The German army, estimated officially at 450,000 on November 11, has been reduced to 200,000; the Bulgarian army has dropped from 500,000 to 120,000; the Austrian from 2,200,000 to about 100,000; and the Turkish from 400,000 to less than 200,000.

NO RAINBOW DIVISION PARADE.

The war department has decided definitely that it will be impracticable to parade the 42d (Rainbow) division in Washington in a complete organization. General Pershing has been so advised.

The division will be brought back to camp Meade and subsequently each unit of the division will be sent to its home camp for demobilization. Regiments and smaller units will be paraded in the principal cities of their home states if this can be arranged.

The entire 42d division should be in this country before the last of April, General March said, under the present plan. The department is anxious, he added, that the country should see as much as possible of this "extraordinary unit."

tion and the appearance of Mr. Hagan before the Alameda county delegation, I had an interview with Mr. Charles A. Beardsley, who has represented the City of Oakland as special attorney in the waterfront matters, and he is of the opinion that the bill should be so amended as to include only the waterfront immediately in front of the land owned by the City of Oakland.

SAYS HAGAN NOT IN ACCORD WITH BEARDSLEY

"Mr. Hagan well knows the desires of Mr. Beardsley but for some reason best known to himself he is not in accord with Mr. Beardsley in the matter."

"The Senate of California is composed of very high-class men and no one need fear that they will not obtain justice from them."

"Mr. Hagan's attack upon me is wholly unwarranted, and in my opinion unjust and in no sense foul or malicious in not yet disclosed. Whatever standing I have in Sacramento is because I have at all times endeavored to be absolutely just and fair to all sides, and that my position in this matter, Mr. Hagan's attack will not alter my policy in that regard."

The case will be heard in full before the Alameda county legislative delegation in Sacramento next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

TRY ESTUARY SWIM TO ESCAPE POLICE

Fourteen youths were arrested last night when the police broke up a "crab" game at the foot of Adeline street. Eight of them tried to escape by swimming the estuary, and before the arrests, directed by Police Corporal Hunt, were made, three of the swimmers had to be rescued. The youths are all held in the city prison.

Held as a burglary suspect, George Underwood, said by the police to have been implicated in a score of recent thefts, is under investigation at the city prison. Underwood was arrested last night at Thirteenth and Washington streets by Inspectors George Gallagher and William Kelly. Search is being made for alleged accomplices of the prisoner.

Gerard A. Delcora, 455 Twentieth street, is the male accuser. Delcora says he recognizes Underwood as the man who had held him up. Underwood, the police say, has been in prison before.

County Hospital Plans Completed Work to Begin on Building Soon

will be found the main office on the first floor as well as the department for receiving patients. The second floor will have the resident medical staff and on the third accommodations will be provided for graduate nurses.

"Between the administrative building and the nearest ward building will be a parking space for ambulances to and from the hospital and on the opposite side a place for visiting staff automobiles.

"Behind the administrative building is proposed a great surgery or operating pavilion, in which will be located operating rooms, wards for the preparation of patients for operation, as well as rooms for the use of the hospital. Here, too, will be located such highly technical laboratories as X-ray, etc. On the above floor probably will be the bacteriological and surgical laboratories. Behind the surgery and separated from it by the communicating corridor, will be the service building, probably three stories in height.

"The two lower floors will be reserved for store rooms, while the top story will probably be occupied by the main kitchen and dining rooms for the employees.

ALL PLANS ARE CAREFULLY DEVELOPED

"The basement of the communicating corridors will be a tunnel, whereby garbage and other refuse as well as sewer lines can be removed without observation from the main corridor. Likewise bodies can be removed to their respective places. Construction of this communicating tunnel will be such that difficult grades will not be developed between the ward building on one side and the service building and power plant on the other.

"Development of the plans has required a great deal of thoughtful study on the part of Henry H. Meyer, the architect, and myself.

"On the fourteenth-avenue side, next to the ward building, is proposed a place for the laundry and power plant.

"The hospital, when completed, will have a big, rapidly estimated at 500. At the present time the design of the ward buildings are being developed by Mr. Meyers, who is ably assisted by Mr. Klinehardt, a young man of wide experience in such work.

"The hospital, from a patient's standpoint, is judged by the service that is given him in the ward. We have endeavored to make this a special feature and feel that the time given to that subject is well spent.

WARDS MAY BE DIVIDED INTO ROOMS

"It is probable that each ward will be divided into a number of smaller rooms, as the tendency in hospital construction at present is to have small rooms instead of a large, open ward.

"The purpose of the new hospital will be such that, when constructed and properly equipped, its organization should be second to none in this country. It should give service to those needing hospital care in a manner that will obviate any feeling of disgrace on the part of the sick, and this end an effort should be made to choose a name that will be appropriate. Use of such name as county hospital, county poor farm and county jail is repulsive and should be avoided. We do not apply the word county to beautiful parks, monuments and playgrounds."

Broken Promises, Herrick's Charge Candidate Challenges Mayor Davie

Dr. L. F. Herrick, candidate for mayor, sprinkled paprika in the political pot last night when he declared that Mayor Davie had not kept faith with his promises. Herrick made his charges in two addresses before east side improvement clubs.

Dr. Herrick made a somewhat veiled allusion to so-called "ticket of leave men" from Mexico, and then entered into details of his disappointment in the failure of Mayor Davie to bring realization to the expectations of his erstwhile friend and adviser, Dr. Herrick himself.

"I accused him on his solemn promises to serve the interests of your city," said Herrick, "and I can testify to you that he has not kept his faith with the people."

CHALLENGES DAVIE

Advising the people to vote closely by the candidates for the mayoralty, Dr. Herrick propounded a few questions for them to ask Mayor Davie, principal among them being a categorical challenge that the mayor has not kept a single promise that he made as plank to his platform when seeking election. In part, Dr. Herrick said:

"It is a time for cross-examination of your candidate. You registered voters are the jury. You will be sworn to do your duty on April 15. No one of the good old American right of questioning the witness. That means myself, for I come before you and assert that the present mayor of your city should give place to myself. It is a time to ask him questions that stand because they are backed with truth."

QUESTION CANDIDATES

"I was told that he was born in Saratoga county, New York state. Is that correct for his springs, his gambling, and his politicians. Some of these were banished and went to Mexico to live—where their standing and methods were not questioned. The motto for Tammany Hall was, 'What's the constitution among friends?' and their method of feeding the people was to shout fraud and claim everything."

"In asking your questions ask yourself, ask the facts that shout in your ears and stare you in the face: Has the present mayor kept a single one of his promises made four years ago? I accepted him on his solemn promises to serve the interests of the city—to play no favorites—to regulate and improve public service, to save and conserve the greatest asset of our city for the people and the future—our harbor. I was close to him and helped to elect him, and I can testify to you, ladies and gentlemen of the jury of public opinion, that he has not kept his faith with the people."

"It is possible that he met some of those exiled Saratoga politicians in Mexico and had the lesson whispered to him to claim everything, promise everything, shout fraud. What's the sacred truth in politics so long as you land the job? To the victors belong the spoils of office."

"Ask him if it is not true that it was the traffic war needs that took away thousands of our citizens, that made for the full dinner pail in the shipbuilding plants—that he not only doing of his. Ask him if the street railway system or the streets have been improved as he promised. Instead we have a 5-cent fare—20 per cent increase of burden on the poor—while San Francisco and every other large city pays 5 cents, and we have to stand up and hang on to straps."

"Ask the shipyard and all shop workers if they think he has kept his word to them. He boasts that he has them dazzled with his glittering promises—not that he is frank enough to state the same openly. It is claimed that time to ask him questions that stand because they are backed with truth. I have heard that imaginary thing claimed before and reversed at elections. The independent, intelligent, working men—Americans to the core—have their own opinions and, even if fooled often, cannot be fooled all the time."

"It is true that they are afraid of other candidates who have been close to big industries and they are rightly suspicious. It is because I feel that I can represent all the people, all the way, all the time, and bring about the harmony and the progress and the widest kind of prosperity that I entered this race and ask your votes."

LIGHT VOTE AT BERKELEY POLLS

BERKELEY, April 5.—With rain helping home many of the voters, Berkeley is today casting a light ballot in the municipal primary election. That not more than 9000 votes will be cast out of the 24,000 registered voters in the city was evident this morning by the proportion of early ballots at the various polling places. But few more votes than the 9000 cast at last Saturday's school bond election are expected.

Early morning voting showed a slightly larger number of persons at the polls than at the school election at the same time. The heaviest voting of the day was done this afternoon, when commuters returned to their homes from San Francisco.

Walter Thief Given 6 Months' Probation

Henry G. Davis, a Portland high school student, who pleaded guilty of stealing a wallet from a room in the Y. M. C. A., was given six months' probation by Police Judge Samuel this morning. The testimony showed that the Y. M. C. A. had asked $125 for a room while Davis only had $25. Davis said he was broke and that when he saw the wallet the temptation was too strong.

Yesterday he ascended to between 20,000 and 25,000 feet with thirteen passengers. The lowest temperature registered was about 20 degrees below zero.

U. S. Judge Rules That War Is Still On

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—A Kentucky judge who ruled that the war is legally over was overruled today by Judge E. E. Cushman in the United States District Court here. The court pronounced that the war is still on and that it will be war until the President makes the proclamation of peace.

The ruling came in the case of Robert Kelly and Ivan Pangburn of the Hotel Wilson, charged with violation of the Federal war-time regulations. The motion to dismiss the information against them on the contention that the war is over was denied.

TO The Shipbuilders and Metal Workers of San Francisco Bay District

The deadlock between the Machinists, Riggers and other crafts in the shipyards has been broken by a compromise agreement.

Under this agreement we will operate the yards seven hours today, six hours next Saturday, five hours the Saturday after, and four hours on Saturday, April 26th, and each Saturday thereafter until October 1st.

We made this compromise in the general interests of the industry, the community and those men who have remained loyally at work

Your leaders are wrong when they tell you that in this compromise there is victory for you and the stand you took.

They are wrong because you broke an agreement. He that wins by breaking his word, loses. Also you lost a month's wages.

We are telling you this to impress on you again the necessity for keeping agreements.

The Government will not long continue what practically has amounted to a subsidy to the men employed in the shipbuilding industry. Work and wages will depend again on contracts and profits.

THE TIME IS FAST APPROACHING WHEN WE—EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYEE—WILL BE THROWN INTO COMPETITION WITH THE WORLD IN BUILDING SHIPS, AND IT IS IMPORTANT FOR YOUR GOOD RATHER THAN OURS THAT WE CAN DEPEND ON YOUR KEEPING AN AGREEMENT HONORABLY MADE.

We suggest that you men as individuals insist upon knowing at all times what agreements have been made in your name. AND CONSIDER WELL BEFORE YOU, AS MEMBERS OF AN ORGANIZATION, VOTE OR PERMIT YOUR LEADERS TO BREAK YOUR AGREEMENTS.

WE PROPOSE TO KEEP ALL OUR AGREEMENTS TO THE LETTER.

CAN WE DEPEND ON YOU KEEPING YOURS?

Col. Reese, U. S. Government Engineer, said: "Had there been deep water on the continental side of bay, THERE THE GREAT CITY WOULD HAVE BEEN and THERE the great city may yet be if the people of these cities can unite and build a great harbor."

OAKLAND DESTINED TO BE A GREAT CITY

Everything being equal, commerce follows the lines of least resistance. This is a physical law—Oakland is located at the point of least resistance—where ship and rail come together. We have had the rails but not the ships.

Let's unite Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Emeryville, Piedmont and Albany in one great city and county—reduce our taxes and make Oakland the most attractive city in the west.

"Nor are these tasks, so nobly performed in the past, yet at an end. Oakland Chapter must remember that not until the last soldier has come home and been welcomed at his pier by the canteen service, nor until the last need of home-sick soldier is filled, nor until the last allotment has been disposed of, is its hour of service closed."

OAKLAND PITCHERS HAVE DEMONSTRATED THAT THEY ARE READY TO START THE SEASON

A black and white photograph showing a vintage Buick car stuck in a rocky stream bed. The car is partially submerged in the water, with its front end and headlights visible. A man wearing a hat and a striped shirt is crouched on the rocks in the middle ground, looking towards the car. Another man stands on a higher rock in the background, observing the scene. The stream is surrounded by dense vegetation and rocks. The car's front grille prominently displays the 'Buick' logo.

CHICAGO CUBS TEAM WILL TACKLE OAKS TOMORROW MORNING

OAKLAND PITCHERS HAVE DEMONSTRATED THAT THEY ARE READY TO START THE SEASON

Howard's Hurlers Hold Opposing Batters to Low Average of .155 in 14 Games

Arlett and Holling Look Best; Oaks Show Speed and Hitting Strength

By EDDIE MURPHY

The Oaks have played fourteen practice games to date, not including those between the Regulars and Yaguins, and from these games there is plenty of good dope to be gathered for the fans to use in comparing the Oaks' chances in the league with other teams, particularly against Bill Rogers' Sacramento club in the opening series. Only four runs have been tallied by the opposition in the fourteen games, and while the club as a whole looks better this season than it has for the last three or four, most of the credit this year for the fine pre-season showing of the Oaks is due to the work of the six pitchers who at present compose the Oaks' staff, and at present the management appears to be better fixed in the pitching department than is any other manager in the league.

We don't doubt that there are some better pitchers in the league than there are in the Oaks, but we would like to see the club that has the honor of starting the season with every pitcher ready to step into the box with a promise of showing mid-season form. In figuring out the batting averages of teams against the Oakland pitchers, it is found that Carl Holling, the lad whom Del Howard picked up from the beach sand lot, has held the opposing batters to a lower average than has any of the other five hurlers. Carl has pitched sixteen innings against outside teams, thirteen against the University of California and the remaining five against the crack Halton-Didier line of Alameda. Just five hits were scored off him, while he fanned ten and walked four, with one of the four runs being charged against him. The opposition when Holling pitched batted just .057.

Arlett Has Shown He Is Primed to Start

Russell (Buz) Arlett is leading them by one inning for the honor of being the champion of the Oaks' training season. Arlett has pitched six innings, but he has shown that he is a real pitcher. He has pitched six innings, but he has shown that he is a real pitcher. He has pitched six innings, but he has shown that he is a real pitcher.

Ray Kremer Is Hit Harder Than Any

Thirteen innings were pitched by Ray Kremer, and twelve hits or nearly the batting average of the opposition being .333. But Ray is in the pinch, as not one of those twelve hits could be used to help in scoring, which is his control is good, but not walking a batter. No one will kick about Kremer's showing, but he has pitched six innings, but he has shown that he is a real pitcher. He has pitched six innings, but he has shown that he is a real pitcher.

Gregory Will Perform With Tribune Stars

Fast Aggregation Selected to Meet Portland at the Crockett Camp.

Only one more outfielder has to be picked to complete the Tribune All-Star team which will travel to Crockett tomorrow to play against the Portland team in their final game of the training season. Tom Cahalan, who made arrangements for the team, has asked that we send a real fast team up to the sugar town so that the Oaks can win the game in a real battle. Well, the best efforts to make Tom Cahalan's wish have been made, and the Tribune stars are on their way, having the toughest game of their training period. The biggest job of forming a fast team was getting the right kind of a pitcher.

Howard Gregory, the big fellow of the Tribune club, has been in the news by his pitching for the Oaks a few years ago, and recently in the Shodorists. He has been selected to be a real pitcher, and he is sure to be a real pitcher. He has been selected to be a real pitcher, and he is sure to be a real pitcher.

TRACTORS PLAY SEALS.

A fast ball game is on the deck for the fans of San Francisco and Oakland to live up to expectations. It will be one of the fastest games of the season. The Seals are billed to meet the C. R. Best Tractors at 2:30 o'clock and the game will be a real battle. The Seals are billed to meet the C. R. Best Tractors at 2:30 o'clock and the game will be a real battle.

WHAT THE TRIBUNE PHOTOGRAPHER SAW ON AN ALAMEDA CO. CREEK

It is not necessary to leave Alameda county in order to enjoy good trout fishing. The accompanying picture shows Frank Sanford and party depopulating a stream in the eastern end of the county. Sanford and his friends were out on opening day and every member of the party returned with the limit either in fish or pounds. Other anglers who fished Alameda county streams report grand sport. There was a big exodus of men with rods today. The streams are clearing up and conditions are even better than on opening day.

Locals Promise to Give Big Leaguers Stubborn Argument; Kremer and Drolette, Battery

Halton-Didiers Will Meet Oaks in Afternoon in Final Practice Game of Year

By BOB SHAND

With today's game against Cliff Ireland's Independents and a pair of contests tomorrow the Oaks will wind up their training season and will move on to Sacramento Monday afternoon to engage the Senators in the first series of the year. Strong in all departments and brimming over with confidence, the Oaks are ready for the gong and he prediction made some weeks ago by J. Cal Ewing and Del Howard that the team would be in the first division all season seems likely to be fulfilled.

Tomorrow morning the Oaks will tackle the Chicago Cubs and if the boys play to form they will give the National Leaguers one grand battle.

Ray Kremer has been chosen to decorate the mound in the interests of the Oaks and Ray promises to rise to the occasion. Should the local boy have one of his good days he might make the Cubs look foolish. Ray is an in and out but he has been doing much work in the pre-season practice games. On the other end of the battery will be Al Drolette. The former day does is going to have an awful time crowding Rowdy Elliott or Ionus Mitze off the club, but he is going to play second tomorrow.

Regular Lineup to Play Tomorrow

Jack Roche will catch at first base and do his share of the hitting. They are never going to pin any medals on Jack for his holding, but he is a fence.

Olympics Ready for Game With Barbarians

The Barbarian and Olympic club soccer teams will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Eighth and Market streets field in a game of the cup ties. After thinking things over, Pomeroy of the Olympics decided that he would not use Jackson in his lineup for fear that he is not in the best shape after an auto accident he was in some time ago. In his place, Weeks has been chosen to act as outside left. The Olympic team follows:

Premier Jockey Killed at Bowie

BAITMORE, Md., April 5.—An investigation will be held by the stewards at the Bowie race track to determine whether Jockey Willie Doyle was responsible for the spill in the sixth race yesterday which resulted in the death of Frankie Robinson, America's premier jockey. The spill occurred when Garbage, ridden by Doyle, swerved toward the horses who were racing for the first turn. Robinson's head was smashed by the horse's hoofs when he was thrown.

Allie Mack Is Allee Same as Large Lemon

Didn't Have Knack of Landing Punches, So Benjamin Got Decision.

Allie Mack, the highly touted New York lightweight, made his western debut at Dreamland rink, San Francisco, last night and was outboxed by Joe Benjamin. Allie came a long way to convince California fans that home is much better than the imported kind and next time they bring out anything from Gotham they will have to demonstrate that the kid is a regular fighter. Joe Benjamin, who won last night, was a real fighter and he was a real fighter.

Ted Easterly Will Boss Victoria Club

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 5.—Ted Easterly, former catcher for the Senators, was today selected to manage the Victoria club in the Northwestern League.

JONES BEATS HAYNIE

Frankie Jones and Frank Haynie met again and this time Jones was given the decision. He outboxed the lanky lightweight and had things pretty much his own way. Haynie fought a poor fight and had none of his old time skill or punch. Maybe he is stale, as he claims. There is something the matter with Frank when he is an Asson-don boxer like Jones is now.

COFFEY SCORES K. O.

The sensation of the evening was the three round knockout scored by Joe Coffey over Dave Shade. For two rounds Shade had things all his own way and looked like a clinch to win the medal, but in the first minute of the third round Coffey smacked Dave in the breadbasket and the Shades of McCoy in the curtain raiser.

From the TRIBUNE TOWER

"Well, well, liddle, th' whusky's na th' whusky it was a few years syne! It's unco' like tur-r-r-rypentine th' noo!"

So opines Sergeant R-r-robot B-r-r-robot For-r-robot, the guardian of the night watch at the Central Police station. For the sergeant is disgusted with the compounded whisky that he has found in the regions downstairs where confiscated booze is stored.

Not that the sergeant drinks it—oh, no! He's been on the wagon for twenty years or more; but he used to borrow a little to use as liniment when he had rheumatism. He never will again.

His rheumatics bothered him some this week, until finally Lieutenant Fred Schroeder, the largest policeman in the world, decided that he needed an alcohol rub. And when Schroeder gives one a rub, it's SOME rub! He went downstairs, got a bottle that had been confiscated from ma Chinese saloon—found the rheumatic spot on the suffering sergeant—and RUB-BED!

There was a howl of pain, as portions of the sergeant's hide came off. Smoke as from burning coals arose from the spot that whisky touched.

The sergeant squirmed in agony!

In the old days, when whisky was whisky, it was good for rheumatism—but now! This new compound made since the war! Never again—internally or externally—avers the sergeant!

AND EVERY SEVERAL HAIR STOOD OUT

Worth Ryder, curator of the Oakland art gallery, after a recent experience, believes everything that has been said about Hindu mysticism and such. He started to read Dunsany's "A Night in an Inn" to his class in the other day to get the students in the proper mood to draw something mighty solemn and fine. It's a gripping, terrifying tale, telling how three Hindu priests follow to England some Britishers who had stolen the great ruby eye from their idol. One by one the three Hindu priests enter, and one by one they are knifed dead, and the thieves Ryder had read to that point where the third priest had been successfully knifed—his students were hanging onto their seats in their excitement—when there came three loud knocks at the door and a voice without said:

"Three Hindus are here and want to see you, Mr. Ryder."

"Good-bye," wailed the class, as he departed.

MARRIED LIFE

THE OUT-OF-DOORS MAN

There's something to this life, I say, when all the skies are blue, And trees are turning green once more, and all the grass is new, There's more than gold and more than fame to gather through the years;

It's good to be on hand to greet the robin that appears; It's good to feel the sun grow warm beneath the kindly sun, To wander out of doors once more and know a wanderer's fun.

When nature wakes her children gay, and dresses them anew In all their frocks and calico in every style and hue, And turns them loose to roam in the fields and woods and meads, That life is just a round of strife for earthly fame and gold; For flowers and birds and shady woods and every breeze that blows Hold just as sweet enchantments as the ones that wealth bestows.

He has not spent his life in vain who loves the patch of blue Above his head when days are fair, and walks the meadows through, And he who whistles to his dog and tramps with him the fields, Has found a source of happiness that money seldom yields, And who shall say he is not rich, though little gold he spends, Who has the trees for comrades true and singing birds for friends?

There's something to this life, I say, far more than wealth or fame; There is a splendid happiness which every man may claim, And when the green is on the trees and all the brooks are clear, There comes a halm for every eye, a smile for every tear, For he who steals the hours from toil to claim the joys of spring, Thanks God that he has lived once more to hear the robin sing.

"Just Hats"

By Vyvyan

A black patent leather hat that's just as smart as can be—especially with a serge spring suit!

is admonished against permitting any warmth or color in one's vocal address.

"Hello" of older days long ago went into the discard among those whose names were printed or had hopes of being printed in the Blue Book. It was succeeded by the milder and more dignified "Yes" in soft, dulcet tones. But war has had its influence. The intruder must declare himself immediately. The attitude while awaiting identity will be non-committal over the best regulated telephones. The password must be given or all communication ceases.

Who is who this season will demand "Well?" when the telephone bell jangles.

MUSTN'T DO POLITICS—BUT?

"Don't do any politics." This is the warning issued by the civil service board to all laborers, appointees, clerks and other workers in the employ of the city. To make sure that it was understood, Park Superintendent Leo Kerfoot made the rounds of all men under him, explaining that the city law made it illegal for city employees to do politics, etc., etc.

He explained it in detail six times to one laborer, an old one in the department, who didn't seem to get the idea. Finally he started to leave. His employee called him back and, in a husky whisper, demanded:

"Mr. Kerfoot, who do I vote for for mayor?"

Adele Garrison's New REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

"There's one thing that's got to be, to keep from shaking you," Lillian reassured him. "By your own admission, I found a supposed love letter of yours to Miss Fairfax, and you refused her some old woman or anything else you like. But on Madge's account I want to know what this thing is in which you're helping the little Fairfax, and why it should require private restaurant dining-rooms."

"It's about the only place in the world where we can discuss the matter undisturbed," Dicky flashed back. "Her apartment is generally full of chatter, and somebody's always running in at the studio. And as for telling you what it is, that's Miss Fairfax's secret. I have no right to tell it."

I thought Madge had guessed it yesterday when she found a letter in my handwriting and that of Miss Fairfax. But she chose to consider it an ordinary love letter, and high-handedly demanded an explanation which she didn't get. "I was three or four kinds of a beast, but one thing I can't understand in Madge, and that's that she should dine with a man of whose friend-ship with her I've given her cause to know I disapprove."

"You can't get it through your head, even yet that what's sauce for the man—er—Lillian began, but I could stand it no longer. I slipped out of bed, gathered Lillian's warm pelisse closer around me, and fairly ran into the room to Lillian's side.

"TO SNATCH AT HAPPINESS." "Dicky," I half sobbed, "I can't let you think I would have done if you hadn't tried to get me out of bed. I was so sure that that letter was—"

The sound of a softly closing door interrupted my sentence. Lillian had slipped out leaving us alone together. Dicky, with a little exclamation at once, turned and looked at me in his arms, and there against his heart, I sobbed out the story of my luncheon.

No, not quite all. I didn't tell him of Dr. Pettit's impassioned declaration of love, nor of his accusations against Dicky. I knew that the young physician was hardly responsible for his utterances when he made them, and I felt that I COULDN'T spoil these moments of reconciliation with a recital which would be sure to inflame my husband's anger anew.

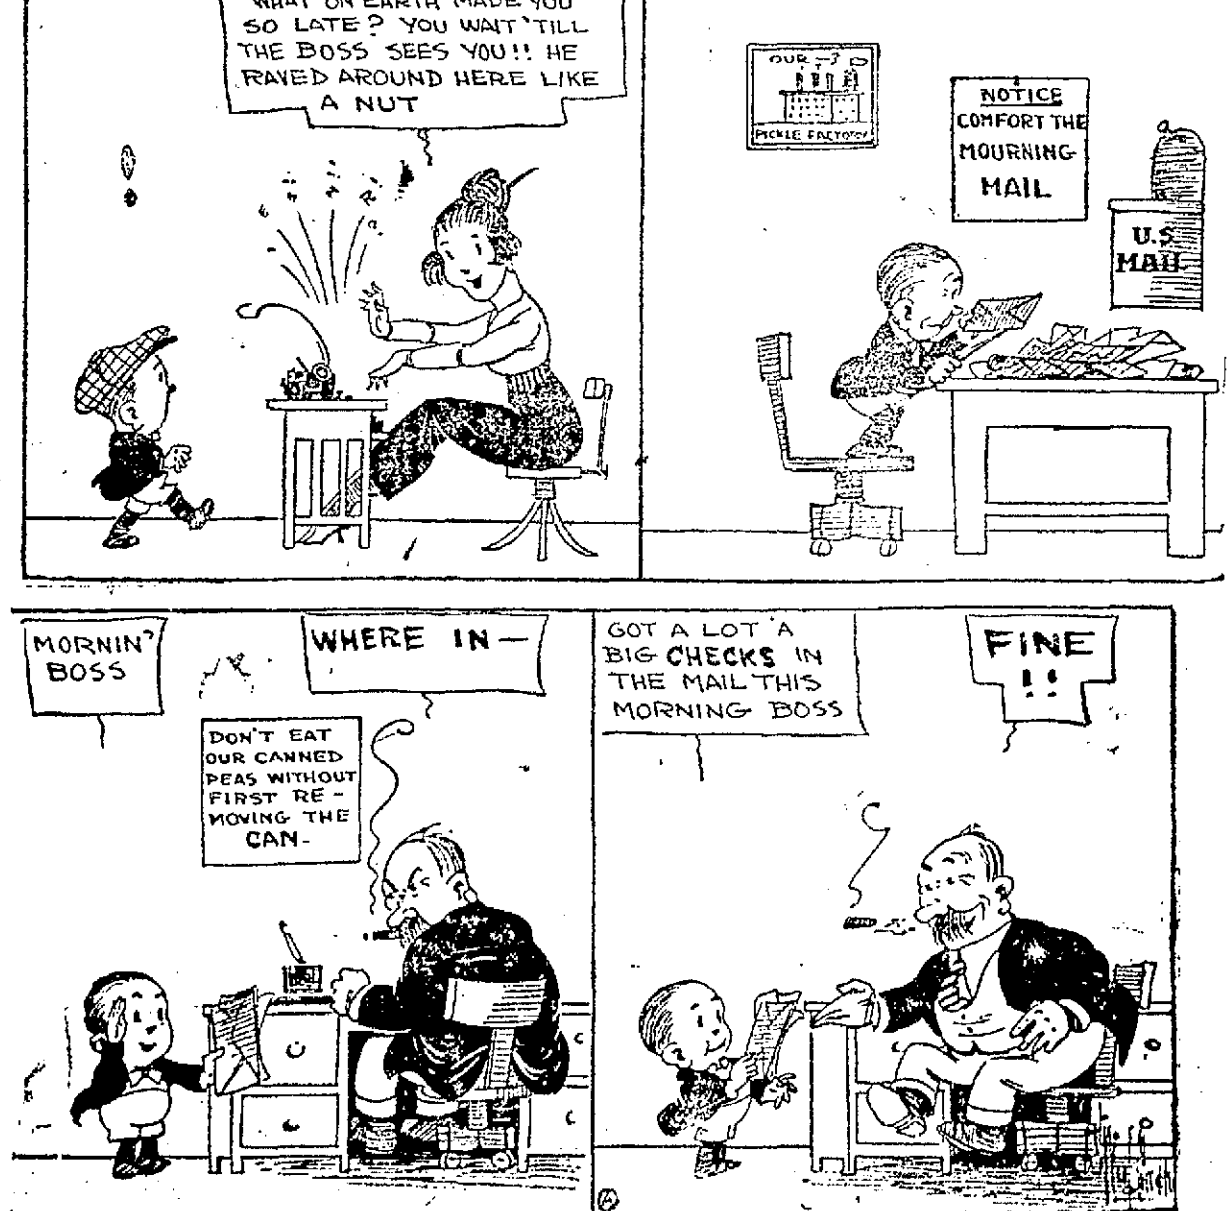

I realized also that this reconciliation would be only one of many if Dicky and I were to stay in our marital high-ways. The time had passed when I had hoped for more stability in my husband. I had learned to snatch at happiness as it passed me, without questioning too closely into the duration of its stay.

And yet my heart leaped high at the love in Dicky's eyes, and I felt again he is the only man in all the world for me.

MISS INFORMATION. "Red" Knows How to Win the Boss

By Cowan

3 Minute Journeys

It is rare indeed for us in this country to behold a tramp who is other than the type that used to be so very common and still may be seen in almost every section—that is, the chap who is "ragged and down at the heels." But in almost every section of Europe before the war, there were many "dress-suit tramps."

The dress-suit tramp was always well dressed. No matter what else he does without, he never goes without good clothes. Indeed, he very frequently goes without dinner and a good bed, but he prefers to keep his good clothes than to sell them for such "creature comforts."

But it frequently happens that the dress-suit tramp makes a better living without working than does his ragged brother. The ragged tramp may be a hard-working sailor or laborer down on his luck, while the chances are that the dress-suit tramp is simply a fellow what won't work, and so begs, first, good clothes, and then his food and shelter. Being of better appearance, the dress-suit tramp seems to the uninitiated to be more deserving, therefore he frequently gets larger alms than his really more honest brother.

One of the establishments found throughout Europe assures the dress-suit tramp of lodging every night and of food in most cities. This is the municipal lodging house and the free breakfast and dinner given by most municipalities.

To see the dress-suit tramp patiently waiting for these places to open up in company with tattered and torn workers, certainly is an odd and perplexing sight. But the denizens of the underworld of tramps declare there are no more successful evaders of work than these dress-suit vagabonds. For a time when "luck is with them," they forsake the bread and lodging lines, but invariably they return, still well dressed, for they will not work.

HEY-NONNY IS NO GO. In days of old the poets used To have a merry way, When meter stuck and thoughts were slow To intersperse their lay— With a hey-nonny-no, nonny-no.

I argue for resumption of This custom quaint and fine, The thing works out when a man gets So much for every line— With a hey-nonny-no, nonny-no.

And yet today the editors, We feel like this you see— "We've taken out the nonny-no, Here's thirty cents for you."

With a hey-nonny-no, nonny-no.

AN IMPORTANT CITIZEN. They wait for the home gardener who is using that extra hour of daylight in the afternoon, says the National War Garden Commission, Washington.

1 cup of rice. 1/2 pound of dates, pitted. 1 tablespoonful of sugar. Add the cupful of rice slowly to the boiling water. Cook until soft. Drain and dry off in warm oven, having the rice closely covered. Let dates and sugar simmer five minutes in half a cup of boiling water. Make a harder around dish with the boiled rice lightly buttered. Fill the - after with the dates and serve with milk or cream.

One can also prepare rice with scord-rains in place of the dates, using the same proportions as mentioned above.

Oatmeal and Prunes. 1 cup of oatmeal. 1 teaspoonful of salt. 2 cups of water. 1/2 cup of prunes. Boil the prunes for 15 minutes in the five cupfuls of water, first having thoroughly washed the prunes in warm water. After the prunes have become tender, add the oatmeal and teaspoonful of salt. Let the oatmeal boil in the prune mixture for about 20 minutes, and then serve. Add sugar and cream or milk, to taste.

Rice and Dates. 2 quart of boiling water. 1 tablespoonful of salt.

FAILURE IN PEACE.

Two years ago today the United States declared war against Germany. Today actual fighting has been suspended five months and the people are expectantly waiting the announcement that the signing of a preliminary peace agreement is at hand. Two years ago the people were concentrating their attention upon news from Washington of orders and proceedings for the creation of a mighty war machine; today their attention is focused upon Paris, where discussions of the means to preserve and translate into permanent peace conditions the victory which the American army helped to win on the battlefield are being conducted.

Extraordinary, unprecedented things have been done in the interval. America was mobilized and equipped to fight, fought and won a war with a powerful and desperate enemy, and is now abandoning the war job. The first significant action by American troops was at Belleau Wood in June, 1918; the first really important operation on a large scale was with Foch's counter-offensive on the Soissons-Rheims-Marne salient on July 17, 1918. By November last they had fought their way to Sedan and had broken through the German line on the east side of the Meuse. Four months after the drive toward Soissons, the enemy begged an armistice and the fighting was ended.

The army did its work in a splendid manner. The people at home supported the Army magnificently. The government, barring a few mistakes that are now forgotten, did well in its striving to meet the expectations of the people by raising the army, putting it in the field and in maintaining it. With everybody at the task, the government and the people, there was never any doubt of the result.

Now the country is ready to get back to a peace basis, is anxious to do so. But it is proceeding much more slowly than it moved when preparing to fight. The reason is that the people must move alone, with practically no help from the government. On the contrary, the people are forced to endure many useless governmental restrictions.

The federal government has almost completely failed to function in the face of the many pressing post-war problems.

Congress failed to enact the essential reconstruction legislation. The executive departments are failing to meet their obligations. Many soldier's dependents have not received their Government allowance since last October. Appropriations have not been made to carry on other important work. There is no settlement of the railroad question, no shipping policy, no relinquishment of Mr. Burleson's dictatorship over the telephone and telegraph lines. The President, the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Navy are in Paris. The Secretary of War is leaving in a few days. When the President concerns himself with domestic affairs it is to call a report on the plea for a pardon for convicted seditionists.

There can be no question whatever that the people of the United States would turn to the work of readjustment and reconstruction with the same enthusiasm and capacity for performance that they showed two years ago in assuming the burden of waging war. But the government won't help them and interposes the obstacle of neglect.

The unfortunate situation can be relieved only by the convening of Congress. Let Congress be convened immediately. Because the government chooses to talk for humanity in Paris is not a bar to permitting America to work for herself at home. Let doubt and uneasiness again be dissipated.

An Eastern newspaper tells about a curious invention of a Boston man fifty years ago, which attracted some attention and scared horses right and left. It was a horseless carriage propelled by a steam engine. It didn't catch on immediately, and indeed was not the first attempt in that direction; but it is interesting to reflect that the present enormous vogue of the automobile is so recent. In fact, the automobile, though beginning to assume a practical form, was something of a curiosity twenty-five years ago. Perhaps nothing exemplifies the progress of the age, unless it may be the telephone, which has come into universal use well within the last half century. Forty years ago the business firm that was equipped with a telephone was considered ultra progressive, and very few residences were on the line, where now the residence that is not thus connected up is altogether the exception.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?

Two apparently reliable reports have been received to the effect that American troops in Siberia refused to cooperate with a Japanese military unit in opposing an assault from armed Bolsheviks. One account is in the form of an official statement by a cabinet official to the Japanese parliament. Another is the statement on Wednesday by Mr. Winston Churchill in the British House of Commons. The latter official said the American commanding officer had declined to cooperate with the Japanese because the attacking force might be composed of insurrectionary peasants mistaken for Bolsheviks. But there can be no doubt, he said, that the force consisted of well-armed Bolsheviks. So far the United States government has uttered no statement on the subject.

Until some explanation is forthcoming the American commanding officer and the government at Washington stand in a most unfavorable light. The American expeditionary force was sent to Russia to cooperate with the armies of the Allies in opposing Bolsheviks. Had the American commander been correct in his fear that the attackers of the Allies might be non-Bolshevik peasants his refusal to act might have been justified. But, according to all available information, he was mistaken, and an officer in the field cannot afford to make such mistakes.

Perhaps the commander of our troops in Siberia has received some secret instruction from Secretary of War Baker, instruction that place General Greaves in an equivocal position. The reports from the British and Japanese governments are not pleasant reading. They leave the impression that the United States has not been true to its obligations. A word from Washington would be welcome.

STILL BLUFFING.

Count Johann von Bernstorff, the chief of the diplomatic criminals in the United States that represented the Prussian military high command, is now head of the special office created by the ministry of foreign affairs in Berlin to deal with peace problems as related to the conference in Paris. He announces that Germany proposes to remain faithful to her engagements resulting from her consent to President Wilson's fourteen points.

But this particular bomb plotter has his own ideas about the interpretation of those points. Though disposed to make reparation for the violence done to France in 1871, Germany, he declares, does not believe such reparation can be realized through the nationalization of the people of Alsace-Lorraine by France and will demand a plebiscite. Furthermore, Germany will contest the Allied proposal for the settlement of the Polish question, but cannot consent to the loss of Danzig, and she will never sign away the Saar basin to France.

This and other Huns still give evidence of a "green blubber" condition of mind. Von Bernstorff is possessed with the idea that the German interpretation of any of the fourteen points and the subsequent affirmations of the President, equally indefinite, will prevail. He is apparently unable to comprehend the fact that only the Allied interpretation will be written into the peace agreement, and if that coincides with the German viewpoint it will be purely accidental. The utterances of the President are elastic enough to permit of most any interpretation and Germany can only submit to the terms of her adversaries.

Meantime Bernstorff is in Berlin deceiving and deluding the German people with just as conspicuous stupidity as he displayed during the war from his headquarters in Washington.

Senator Penrose's suggestion that the President resign and appeal to the country for re-election on the League of Nations issue, making it a referendum, is not one of those arguments confidently made because it is thought to be impracticable. He appears to regard it as quite practicable. It would require the co-operation of the Vice-President, however. The President could resign, whereupon the presidency would devolve upon the Vice-President, who could also resign. Under the provisions of the Constitution, the Secretary of State would then become President. Should he assume office while Congress is not in session it would be compulsory upon him to call that body together, when, Senator Penrose declares, Congress would have full power to make provision for a special election to fill the vacancy. The argument goes a good ways around, and does not support the contention with convincing clearness. But if such a referendum were directly possible, it would be a desirable way to gauge the country's attitude.

The German government is reported to be preparing to fight the Polish Republic at Danzig. One way to counter this move is for the Allies to march across Germany and attack from the rear the forces opposing Poland.

NOTES and COMMENT

That the strained situation in ship-building is to end will be a great relief to the community. The industry has come to be such an important part of our life that its peril, or even an uncertainty regarding it, affects every other line of industry and a great majority of its individual population.

A Paris correspondent writes that the League-of-Nations project is dead. It may not be quite that, but there is a visible realization among those assembled at Paris of a necessity to press the high speed pedal as to peace terms. Formulating peace terms was the primary task, and that it has not been attended to in five months is beginning to bear unpalatable results.

What appears to be the first unit of a soldier organization that was expected to result from this war, as the Grand Army of the Republic emerged from the civil war, is the Veterans, with a habitat at San Jose. At least, such a camp held a meeting there Tuesday and passed a resolution concerning utterances that had been made at a Socialist gathering the previous Sunday.

The efforts to control individual action by statute prevail. A bill has been introduced in the Assembly which would empower high school principals to supervise not only the educational, but the athletic and social activities of pupils. That it has been amended so as to entitle principals to merely look over expense accounts in such connection indicates that there is still a question as to how far to go with the statutes.

Something of an achievement was that of the destroyer Boggs, which steamed from Vallejo down the coast, went through the canal, raced up the Atlantic and arrived at Newport in twelve days. The name with which the craft is weighted would never suggest it.

The latest advice is that Luxembourg wants to get nearer Belgium. Luxembourg has had more than four years to make up her mind, with the subject very much to the fore, but had not before evinced a decided inclination as to just what she did want to do. It remains now for the Belgians to say how it strikes them.

Senator Chamberlain keeps on stirring them up. The Oregon Senator is the enfant terrible of his party and the administration. He won't let the Ansell-Crowder controversy down, and having been the chairman of the Senate Military Committee during the controversy from which it developed, he is in psychological position to keep it up.

A skirmish about the drink ban is on in the legislature. Assemblyman McCray of Redding has introduced a bill to make it a crime to manufacture or dispense corn cobbler, on the ground that it contains something deleterious. It seems to be preternaturally serious about it, but some other members are expectant that it will be productive of diversions.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

The question has been raised that Catalina island waters are protected for the rich men who come here to fish. This is a fact. The membership in the Tuna Club depends upon an angler taking one of these two fish, tuna or swordfish, and for which the State of California does not pay one dollar to protect. Almost every one of the tuna or swordfish taken from these waters are hooked and brought to gaff outside of the three-mile limit. Of the 600 and odd tuna hooked last season, and the countless fish that were lost, not 3 per cent of them were hooked and gaffed within three miles from the shore line—Catalina Island.

The movement started by Col. August Stutter to eliminate all kinds of seine fishing in the Santa Monica bay is meeting with much success. Those who fish for sport are relying to the assistance of Colonel Stutter and Dan Daniels, both of Venice, who are promoting the movement against the fishermen who fish with small mesh seines for the canneries. It is proposed by Colonel Stutter to have laws enacted under which seine fishing in the bay will be entirely prohibited—Catalina Island.

Let us suppose the legislature had not met at all. Or meetings, we will suppose it had adjourned at once having suffered if there had not been a new measure written into the law, no one would have been injured. Indeed, it may be said the benefits that will come from the session of the legislature, other than that arising from the road building program, will be negligible—Bakersfield Californian.

Terming Drake's bay "a veritable Achilles heel," Senator Scott and Herbert A. Slater have introduced a joint resolution calling upon the Federal government to erect coast defenses at that point. It relates that the strategic importance of Drake's bay as an entrance to the interior of California is such as to invite the landing of troops in the event of an coast attack by hostile forces. As early as 1579, Sir Francis Drake, in cruising the coast on behalf of the English government, realized the value of the bay by landing and erecting fortifications on its shores.—Sacramento Union.

A proposal to increase the speed limit on the open highway to 40 miles an hour has been widely amended in the legislature to read 35 miles. That is fast enough for a sane man with a sense of his responsibility. A dangerous man will make it 40 if he thinks he won't be caught at it and he would make it 45 if it were 40. There is some measure of protection in 35 miles—Stockton Record.

STRASSBURG-Of Restored Provinces

"Strassburg is famed for its printing press there, and Johann Tauler, the Phillips Brooks of his time, preached and ministered throughout the appalling weeks when the black death half depopulated the city. 'Accused of starting the pestilence by poisoning wells, more than 2000 Jews were put to death in Strassburg alone, adding to the horrors of that tragic time. Men's thoughts turned to Divine succor, and there grew up the mystical and mysterious 'Friends of God,' among whom Tauler was a leader, and a Strassburg banker a convert, who wrote a treatise on meditative steps toward heaven. 'Strassburg's population in 1910 was a little more than that of Toledo, Ohio, and its pre-war industries included tanning, printing, brewing, making of steel goods, paper and furniture, while the poorer classes engaged in raising geese, from the livers of which they derived the paste which often is known as 'Strassburg paste.'"

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO.

Captain J. T. Weldon of Kansas City, captain on a gunboat on the Mississippi river on the Union side and sent home in 1855 to await orders, presents a claim for $51,000 back pay on the ground that he had never been discharged from service. Despatch from Washington, D. C. "It is the confident expectation of officers of the signal corps that within a short time news may be flashed from the war department to Fort Myers, five miles distant, without the use of wires."

Overtures suggested by the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church: "The use of tobacco is sinful and therefore inconsistent with the Christian profession. Because the use of tobacco is especially obnoxious in officers of the church none will be ordained unless he promises to refrain from its use. No student shall be admitted to license to preach or ordained unless he promises to refrain from the use of tobacco."

In the Alameda free library 13,213 volumes were in circulation during the month of March.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

What Science Says About the Proper Ways to Preserve Food.

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

As a rule tins of edibles are well preserved and safe to eat, if a certain amount of fresh fruits and fresh vegetables go with them. Now and then, however, such as have need of milk and not of strong meat, partake of food that has been packed in jars or tins, and rebellion breaks forth in the stomach. Through carelessness such "spells" are called "autointoxication," "ptomaine poisoning," "cholera morbus" and similar useless names.

Spoiled food is usually an abiding place for a bacillus by the name of "bacillus botulinus," so named because it was first identified in decomposed sausage meat or hog flesh. Dr. George Sponner Burke, a woman investigator, performed experiments not long ago to determine the possible means of preventing "botulism," as sickness due to eating spoiled food is called.

Seven victims of botulism were also treated by Dr. E. C. Dickson of Leland Stanford Junior University and the bacilli studied.

It was found that once these bacilli manage to get into the food extreme degrees of heat fail to kill their spores.

The method used to preserve fruit or vegetables by boiling them in an open kettle and then sealing them in clean jars cannot be relied upon to sterilize, that is, to kill all germs, because the spores will survive three- and one-half hours in boiling liquid. Indeed, in foam and grease on the sides and bottom of cooking utensils they survive much longer.

Nor is the sterilizing method, as proved in the experiments of the ice pack, sufficient to kill the spores of these germs. Blanching in boiling water for five minutes, however, is effective as a cleanser. Moreover, fractional sterilizing by the Pasteur method of three successive days is also of doubtful value, because the bacilli developed after the third day.

Pressure-canning, however, is a good method, the only one which the experiments prove to be safe and certain. Even so, a pressure of five, ten or fifteen pounds for ten minutes in the "autoclave" will not kill the more resistant bacteria. Obviously, a much longer period must be used.

The spores must be kept out of the cans and jars. Fruit and vegetables with whole skins only are to be used. Bruised and partially spoiled material should be used at once and not stored for future use. Those to be preserved ought to be cleaned perfectly before they are packed or cut. The hands and utensils of the preserver ought to be as clean as a surgeon's at an operation.

Finally, housewives ought not to taste the contents if it is spoiled. Such a habit may cause serious sickness.

The president declared that a new cabinet had not been formed, but that he hoped to announce the names of his new cabinet members in the near future. MILK BOYCOTT
TALK CAUSES
CLUB STRIFE

BERKELEY, April 5.—Strife has broken forth in the ranks of the Berkeley Defense Corps, and the patriotic organization is threatened with disruption. The cause lies in the fact that C. W. Shaw, president of the corps, and Vincent R. McHale, secretary, are at odds.

Trouble has arisen in the membership of the defense corps over the responsibility for a proposed boycott planned by the organization against milk dealers of Berkeley. To further the boycott as planned a mass meeting was called at the high school auditorium for Thursday evening to which all members of civic organizations and mothers clubs had been invited.

The meeting turned into a boycott against the boycotters and in its aftermath has followed a merry wrangle as to who launched the boycott idea in the first place.

SHAW BLAMES McHALE.

Shaw says: "The secretary of our corps is responsible for giving the news of our meetings to the papers. He erred. We never went on record for a boycott."

Comes the following reply from McHale: "If a boycott wasn't sponsored by the corps then I must have been dreaming. The corps accepted the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the high price of milk and in that report was a recommendation that boycott be used as the most efficient way of correcting the situation."

McHALE QUOTES REPORT.

In support of his contention, McHale quotes the following words from a lengthy report submitted to the corps by a committee headed by John Stewart, San Francisco commission man:

"Your committee recommends that in the event of our not being able to get redress for our grievances through the legislative investigation now being held in Sacramento that the Berkeley Defense Corps call a mass meeting of Berkeley citizens, present to them the facts we have ascertained and ask them to pledge themselves, that for a period of thirty days they refuse to buy milk. Condensed milk is a drug on the market and could be sold at a profit. It is distributed at cost until such time as the producers and distributors realized what a raw deal the consumer is getting."

It that isn't sponsoring a boycott when that report was unanimously adopted, I'd like to know what is?"

THERE'LL BE NO BOYCOTT.

At any rate, there is not to be a boycott at present. And the whole meeting of the corps was a mistake. That much, Victor Robertson, president of the corps, says.

"The meeting was called prematurely," says Robertson. "It should have been held without further investigation."

Upon the committee named by Robertson to investigate the high price of milk, the responsibility for the meeting is being shifted. The committee was authorized by the city urging members of various organizations to join in plans for the "boycott."

MEETING MONDAY.

Now John Stewart, chairman of the committee, says the whole situation was a mistake. So does Frank Hooper, another member of the committee. And they blame McHale and the press for it all.

There is to be a meeting of the corps Monday night in the "dugout" on Allston way and an exciting session is anticipated. Friends of McHale declare that they will demand an apology in his behalf and that they will place the blame for the whole situation where it belongs.

In the meantime, there will be no boycott on milk and residents of the college city can drink the high-priced fluid to their heart's content.

BURGLED STOLEN WHISKY.

Pfaff Tells How He Discovered His "Spirit Bride"
Affidavit Describes of Finding of Ideal During Dream
But His Heroine, Film Star, Is Ignorant of Nuptials

Only the trivial information of where and by whom is withheld from the lengthy statement in which Henry Frederick Pfaff announces his marriage to the pretty film star, May Allison. He even explains that it took place six months before last April 11 and is only now announced. Despite that only a year and a half have thus elapsed since her nuptials. Miss Allison has no remembrance of the same.

In fact, she continues to declare that she is nobody's spirit bride, as Pfaff's affidavit still denied admission to the Santa Clara county records, affirms. She even admits to a sort of pity for her alleged spirit spouse, but declares this will not prevent her placing the matter in the hands of her attorneys if Pfaff does not leave her alone.

Pfaff lives in Los Altos. The affidavit which he has sought to have filed is a long document in which he tells in detail how, under the direction of a beautiful dream, he sought from end to end of the country for his ideal, found her in Miss Allison and made her his bride. He tells, too, of the spirit drama, "Eternal Love," "greatest production ever undertaken," on which he and his bride are at work. Even with this Miss Allison is unacquainted and quite oblivious of his strenuous demands upon her time, she is proceeding with her regular work with the film company for which she is leading woman.

IN PFAFF'S AFFIDAVIT.

The sub-plot of his romance, the various dreams that he has had, the beginning of the "girl with the voice," the beginning of work on the greatest play, the discovery of the Sun Man and Sun Lady, and the vision and vibration, go to make up the affidavit which Pfaff sought to record at San Jose. He could not record it, said the county officials, without Miss Allison's consent, which he has so far been unable to secure.

"It was in 1905," says the affidavit, "just after midnight, when Christmas eve was ushering in Christmas morning, I was reclining on my back, with planks thereon, in a summer house at 1620 Turk street, San Francisco, that the author, just falling asleep, had a vision of a tall, dark, thin man with a yellow veil in his hand, coming down from Heaven, at the side of the bed and asking hold of a girl with light hair and large blue eyes, by the arm, guiding her to the author and blessing her."

LOVE DREAM GIRL.

"My heart hunted for years for the above vision and took several journeys. He finally located the girl of his dreams through a photo and while enjoying the photo play of 'The Girl with the Voice,' I saw that was not the only dream Pfaff said he had of his 'wife.' And a waking vision of one who whispered in his ear at a play he was attending and at which he had been sitting, was the musical voice of Bessie Bacon, daughter of Frank Bacon, who formerly played at several Oakland and San Francisco theaters, that he must 'find the girl with the voice.' He then comes to this climactic paragraph in the affidavit:

"The young lady's name is May Allison, the well-known film star, whose marriage over six months ago, prior to April 11, 1918, when he dates his affidavit—to Mr. Pfaff, and secretly withheld, is now publicly announced."

Having recited the story of his bride's ancestry and life, he continues:

"She has severed her connection with the picture corporations to collaborate with her husband in the largest production, 'Eternal Love,' ever created."

"ETERNAL LOVE" DETAILS.

He adds several details about "Eternal Love," including these:

"It treats of life's mysteries from the creation of earth to the present moment, defining the material and spiritual stages of development, with predictions of the future. Discoveries regarding the sun, moon, stars, vibration, etc., are all included; also inventions relating to new color portraits effects in photoplays, etc."

About himself Pfaff continues thereafter to recite a number of accomplishments, among them the following: He can "visualize the sun any length of time without the aid of artificial means"; he is the only

We have our successful women legislators, not only here in California, but elsewhere, and we have in San Francisco our own Annette Adams."

Commissioner W. H. Edwards, candidate to succeed himself, spoke at the Washington School last evening. Edwards cited tax saving as his election claim. He said in part:

"I stand squarely on my record of past performances. The records of the council during the four years that I have been in office will show that I have never hesitated in taking a firm stand on any public issue and during that time the same records will show that I have saved the taxpayers more than one million dollars by voting against useless and unneeded expenditures. My policy has been efficiency with economy and courteous treatment to every taxpayer that visits my office, and I will continue that policy if elected."

Friday night, Chris R. Fox addressed a King meeting at the home of Mrs. Joubert on Shattuck avenue. Tonight J. H. King will deliver an address at the Claremont theater. On Sunday the Sons and Daughters of Washington will hold their regular rally at Chabot hall, and Joseph H. King has been invited to speak.

Monday noon, King will address the employees of the San Francisco Shipbuilding company at Twenty-third avenue.

Miss Bessie J. Wood, candidate for commissioner No. 1, spoke before three gatherings last evening, and was enthusiastically received each. She was endorsed by the Oakland Women's Political club.

In her speeches last night at the Ruthford gymnasium in Fruitvale, before the Roman club at 675 Fourteenth street, and at the "Bessie J. Wood club" at 462 Forty-fifth street, she said:

"I wish to go into the city council to represent the women of Oakland, to do the very definite things that women want to have done and which I believe only a woman can do. The government did not hesitate to call upon women during the stress of war; and how the women responded to that call you all know. Now that this wonderful period of reconstruction is here, woman's work is as essential now as it was then, and the government is not slow in recognizing woman's worth."

Girl of Dreams Hopes His Mental Whirligig Has Gone

Pfaff seems to place great faith, he says, that "the author, through great privation and hardship, discovered that his wife and self were spiritually joined as one person and all disturbances or occurrences whatever in their physical selves were immediately astrally and spiritually communicated to each other, no matter how far the distance, and any monetary action, such as eating, digestion, sleeping, etc., affected both simultaneously."

Refused recording of his document, which bears the notarial seal of A. J. Henry of the city and county of San Francisco, at San Jose, Pfaff has not announced what course he will pursue. Nor would he confide in the county clerk what was his motive in seeking to record the affidavit.

Miss Allison says Pfaff has bothered her for two years, written her ardent letters of sometimes great length as thirty pages, the most of these she sent back unopened; that he wrote to her employers to charge that they were keeping him and her apart and to threaten them with $5,000.00 damage suit if they did not release her.

"I have not heard from him for several months and I had hoped that the mental whirligig had gone. Apparently he is breaking loose in a new spot. I will have to place the matter in the hands of my attorneys, for, as sorry as I am for him, I cannot be annoyed again as I have been in the past."
